THE CLIMATE—A VISIT TO CHINATOWN—THE GREAT CROWD OF VISITORS—PLACES OF INTEREST TO TOURISTS—THE GOVERNMENT OF THE CITY AND COUNTY—A TRIP TO MONTEREY AND SANTA CRUZ, ETC.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 21, 1886.

To the Editor.

The knowledge which eastern people have of this country has been largely derived from the literature which has been furnished with true western generosity by the various railroads running to the Pacific coast. To those persons who have given this shore a prolonged personal inspection, it is almost superfluous to say that many of the facts therein contained have their existence alone in the imagination, and that the glowing portrayals wherein the charms and enchantments of paradise are rivalled, are only the overflowing of a wonderfully exuberant fancy. This observation is particularly true of

THE CLIMATE.

Who ever saw, at any point east of the Missouri river, the climate of California referred to in any terms but those of laudation? It is always described as soft and salubrious; at once soothing and exhilerating, just warm enough to be comfortable and just cold enough to be healthy. The more intimate however, the acquaintance between the visitor and this region becomes, the more decided becomes his conviction that the aforesaid word painters have dealt in hyperbole and exaggeration. The statement is believed to be true in every respect that the climate of this city is about as objectionable as it is possible for a climate to be. For fifteen days following the first of this month rain fell almost daily, and when there was an occasional skip, full atonement for the omission was made during the following night. Now the dry weather has set in and no more rain is looked for for some months. A fog will come regularly in the evening and last till the following morning at nine o'clock. Everything will be covered with moisture and chilliness and gloom will be the general rule. It is a climate from which persons having throat and pulmonary troubles should keep away. Pneumonia and consumption are as frequently found in San Francisco as in the eastern country. It is called a "trying" climate. Its effects are illustrated in the case of

COL. MAPLESON'S OPERA TROUPE.

The colonel has enjoyed one of his most disastrous campaigns in his present season of opera in this city. He is not, generally speaking, one of those managers whose musical argosy is wafted with favoring gales under sunny skies, but he often more nearly resembles a great armada which leaves its moorings with bombastic orders, with pomp and show and glitter and returns after one futile campaign, broken, humbled and demoralized. One by one the voices of his singers gave way soon after reaching this city, so that it was with the utmost difficulty that some of the performances could be given. Of course more or less annoyance and irritation were inevitably occasioned and then a rebellion sprang up among some of the Italian artists with more voice and name than brains and forbearance, and at last accounts a couple of these noble foreigners were refusing to leave their beds until the pecuniary obligations due them by the impressario were fully discharged.

But, barring a few matters connected with the weather and the climate, there are many attractions and diversions for the eastern sight viewer. And of these eastern tourists there is at the present time in this state a great multitude. The papers here make daily estimates of the number of arrivals, the amount of money each visitor brings and spends, the percentage of persons who will make permanent investments, and the benefits which will come to the state from the influx. The railroad trains from the east still come composed of twenty or more cars,—all entirely filled. It is believed that one thousand persons have entered the state daily for sixty days, besides the great numbers of emigrants from foreign shores.

THE CITY IS FULL,

and there are even chances of new comers being unable to secure rooms at the hotels. Market street is as overflowing with teams, street cars and pedestrians, as Broadway in New York, or State street in Chicago. And there is a be ohic flavor about the crowds which indicates that the cities have not furnished a majority of the visitors. They are here in numbers from every state. San Francisco is in itself a decidedly cosmopolitan city; almost every nation under the sun has its representatives within its walls; and in such numbers as to occupy a distinct quarter. Of course the interest centers in the Chinese district; and there multitudes of visitors will be seen viewing the novel sights, purchasing curiosities in the various shops, or sampling the products of the culinary skill of the residents. It is somewhat singular that scarcely any two well-informed persons will agree concerning the Chinese. Estimates as to their number vary all the way from 30,000 to 80,000. Some say that as a rule they are bright, quick and sufficiently educated to read and write; while others insist that the majority are dull and ignorant of all learning. Some describe them as of careful and cleanly habits; while others portray them as the incarnation of filth and grossness. It is readily seen that in a city of a quarter of a million of people of whom nearly one-fourth are Chinamen, the social and political questions involved by their presence are to the city and state. In such a communication as this, no discussion of this matter can be attempted. It is believed that the large number of people from the east who are making observations for themselves, will take back to their homes views which will prove an antidote to that impractical sentimentalism which is so generally held by the warm-hearted philanthropists on the other side of the mountains. It requires no deep study of the situation to understand the permanent injury which the presence of these aliens is entailing upon this country. So far as the matter of labor and wealth is involved, it is one of very serious and immediate importance; but it is of practical importance when compared with the moral and physical health of the community. It is probably safe to state that within a fraction of territory which would scarcely cover forty rods square, there lodge sleep and eat in this city between 30,000 and 50,000 Celestials.

A MIDNIGHT VISIT

to these quarters is necessary to a complete conception of their character. No person can have a thorough notion of the possibilities of mundane depravity without making such an excursion. It will be conceded, for the sake of argument, that most of the Orientals are members of the human family; but that they can sympathize with or partake of—or can be made to do so—the true spirit of American civilization, there is no reason to believe and every reason to doubt. The fundamental iniquity which besets the entire race of Celestials in this country is the complete absence of all family relations and the base estimate in which they hold their women. No men who treat their feminine companions with contempt and brutality are competent to participate in self government. There are somewhat less than one thousand Chinese females in San Francisco, and all of them, except a dozen or two who are the wives of respectable Chinese traders—belong to the most salacious class. Apart from the depravity which such a condition of things indicates, is the more important reflection that the thousands of Chinamen are not restrained or directed by the influences of family surroundings and have not the remotest idea of

"That home which though humbled and narrowed by fate,
Is enlarged and ennobled by love."

The perfect family and home constitute the ideal result of human endeavor—a consummation, which unfortunately, is too seldom realized;—but to have the principle ignored and disregarded by an entire race is a very serious matter; and it at least shows the impropriety of allowing its members to have any voice in a republican government.

A visit to a Chinese theatre is an entertaining episode to a person who has sufficient nasal endurance. With the proper introduction one may be invited to a seat on the stage and if he is fortunate he may have a conversation with the manager. From him it was learned that the play usually begins at five o'clock in the afternoon and lasts until midnight. The admission price to Chinamen is thirty five cents when the play opens—tapering down to ten cents as the hours advance. White persons pay fifty cents each and stay as long as they wish. If a play closes before midnight another is placed upon the boards and proceeds till that hour is reached, and then resumed the next evening;—a rebellion would occur if the house were to close before twelve o'clock. Female characters are all assumed by men. No Chinese women are permitted in the main part of the house—a secluded corner of the gallery is set apart for them. From an American standpoint the chief end of the performance seems to be to see which can come out ahead in a contest of noise—the performers on the stage or the abominable orchestra in its rear. No prompter is ever employed—any delay or forgetfulness on the part of the actors would be followed by a general disturbance.

There is the usual list of places which goes to inspect which are familiar to a degree to most American citizens. Of course every stranger visits the United States mint, the largest in the world. The Cliff house where the sea lions disport themselves; the Presidio, which is the military reservation of the National government and of which General Howard has just come to take charge; Telegraph Hill, from which views of the city, of Golden Gate, of Oakland and Alemeda, of Spreckels sugar refinery; of the several islands in the bay—all owned by the government—and of the far-off mountains, can be had; of Nob Hill, whose summit the residences of Stanford, Crocker, Hopkins, Colton and Flood adorn and look down on the humble dwellings below; and Woodwards gardens where fine flowers and foliage with an assortment of cheap animals mingle their attractions for the multitude. Besides these short excursions the person who, either from recollection or from reading, recalls the illustrious dead who sleep in San Francisco, will not fail to include the cemeteries in his visitations; and there are four, the Catholic, the Masonic, the Odd Fellows and Golden Gate, the last being the general burying place. The Odd Fellows ground is the most elaborately and elegantly taken care of, and it is beautiful in every way. Mr. O'Brien, one of Bonanza Kings, has a magnificent tomb in the Catholic cemetery. In the Golden Gate grounds are found the monuments which denote the final resting place of many who are known to fame, among whom may be mentioned Col. E. D. Baker, Senator Miller, Broderick, Sharon, Rolston and Governor Lapham. The Broderick shaft is at the very summit of the cemetery, from which may be had a most excellent view of the city and bay. It will be remembered that Broderick was killed by Judge Terry in 1859. Terry was counsel of Miss Hill in her suit against Senator Sharon only a year or two since, and a few months ago they were married. Most of the prominent men of the coast own lots in these grounds which are laid out and embellished very tastefully.

The proper limits of this communication forbid any lengthy mention of the government and the institutions of San Francisco. The city and county are under the control of one body—a board of supervisors. Taxes for municipal purposes are limited by law to one per cent of the assessed valuation, for that reason expenditures are restricted and jobbery is quite effectually prevented. Saloon licenses are twenty-one dollars a quarter, but restaurants and other places which do not sell liquor over the bar, pay nothing.

THE STREET CAR LINES

are numerous, and the cable cars of the city are remarkable as being the first of the kind built in the world. The best lines are owned by the Central Pacific railroad, which corporation has its grip effectually on the throat of the city and commonwealth. Senator Stanford is said to be the only one of the millionaires who have made their wealth on the coast who display a generous and considerate spirit;—he is highly respected and beloved while the rest seem to have but little in common with their fellow citizens.

A pleasant excursion is a trip to Monterey and Santa Cruz. It is true that no lover of his kind should take delight in the misery of others; but after all there is a certain diversion in seeing half the passengers on a boat leaning over the gunwales "waiting for something to turn up"—and it generally does. It gives an indescribable zest to the trip. Monterey was the first capital of the state; it contains buildings more than a hundred years old. Fremont there had his headquarters for a long time and near by is the only grove of cypress trees in the United States. Near Santa Cruz is a collection of Big Trees—of the redwood variety—which though not of such magnitude as their Yosemite brothren, are by no means infants;—some of them being twenty feet in diameter and three hundred feet high.

When Jefferson Davis made his speech at Montgomery, Alabama, on Wednesday, he stood before 20,000 of his countrymen, and said: "In 1861 you were full of joyous hopes. Now you are wrapped in the mantle of regret." It is well to remark that this is the sentiment of the wing of the democracy that controls this government to-day—the wing that may be always relied upon to give a solid electoral vote for a democratic candidate for president.—Gazette.

Jeff Davis said no such a thing. When he made his speech at Montgomery the federal flag waived over his head by request and consent.—Recorder.

Our friend, the Recorder, is a little too hasty in putting in a denial in behalf of Mr. Davis. All the telegraphic reports of his speech at Montgomery agree exactly as to what he did say. Democratic papers and republican papers published the same report and between them there is no variance. For instance, take the reports of the speech as published in the Chicago Times, an excellent democratic authority, and here are the words Mr. Davis is said to have uttered, when speaking of 1861—"Then you were full of joyous hopes. You had every prospect of achieving all you desired; and now you are wrapped in the mantle of regret—and yet that regret only manifests more profoundly and does not obliterate the expression of your sentiments." Of course the democratic party in the north is not in sympathy with such sentimentality over the "lost cause," but it seems to take well in the south, where, as Mr. Davis said, the spirit of 1861 is not dead. The old traitor would do his party a kind service if he would keep his "lost cause" sentiments to himself, and if he wants to speak for the south to speak of the wonderful progress it has made since his rebellion was crushed and slavery abolished. There would be some sense in that kind of talk, but his twaddle about southern regret because his rebellion was a failure, is altogether out of time and dishonors the man.

In discussing the strikes the Madison Democrat has this to say in regard to the firm of E. P. Allis & Co., of Milwaukee:

There is not only no necessity for a strike in E. P. Allis & Co's workshops, but it would be an outrage upon every honest industry in Milwaukee to inaugurate such a strike. Every person who is engaged in agitating such a strike is not only an enemy of honest workingmen as well as of law and order, but is a scoundrel who would much prefer stealing a living to working for it. If the state of Wisconsin has a large employer of labor who is at all times in full sympathy with laborers and studying their interests quite as much as his own, it is E. P. Allis. But when he has to permit a band of lawless, worthless tramps, parading as the executive committee of a "noble order of Knights of Labor," to run his business he will of course shut it up.

Here is an instance of unblushing shame and inconsistency on the part of employes—or rather on the part of the Knights of Labor. There is no man in all the west who has a deeper sympathy for the workingmen than Mr. Allis. He went so far a month ago as to propose to give his employes an interest in his vast business, by making it a sort of a cooperative concern, in other words, to take his workingmen into partnership with him. But when the greedy managers of the Knights saw his unbounded generosity they assumed the authority to even demand more from Mr. Allis than this, until finally his patience was exhausted, and he absolutely refused to degrade his manhood by dallying with them any longer. The workingmen have no grievance with Mr. Allis. He has been a constant friend to them, but the leaders in the order who are a curse to the workingmen, are responsible for all the trouble. It is a great pity that the cause of the Knights can not be placed in better hands than those whose counsels are detrimental to the best interests of the workingmen.

Once in a while a ray of hope comes from congress. It is said that the Blair educational grab bill is having a rough time of it. If it will only be rough enough to kill it the country will have occasion to give cougies thanks.

PANEGYRIC AND PROTEST.

JEFFERSON DAVIS DEFENDS THE CAUSE HE WENT DOWN WITH.

The North Declared the First Prophet of Disunion and the South Justified in Repelling Invasion—Meeting of Albany, New York, Citizens to Express Indignation.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 30.—The ceremonies attendant upon the laying of the corner stone of the confederate monument Thursday were very elaborate and imposing and attracted a large and enthusiastic crowd. Ex-Gov. Watts presided. He made a brief address and then introduced Jefferson Davis, who spoke for half an hour. Mr. Davis address was as follows:

It is deeply gratifying to me to be presented to you by one on whom I leaned for advice when advice was waiting; whose stern qualities always made me sure that the judgment he was drawing came from the bottom of his heart. When you called him away, the place was missing which he once filled and have always desired to lay my hand upon him again. [Applause.] Thus it was when we met the other night, after years of separation. Some people in the room gave a sardonic smile to see two old-weather beaten men embrace. But our hearts were young, though, our heads were old.

Associated here with so many memories, thrilling and tender, I have felt that it was dangerous for me to attempt to speak to you as my heart would prompt me. Not that I am always treasuring up bitterness against any one, but I am overflowing with love and admiration for our people. [Applause.] To avoid, therefore, anything which might be prompted by the fulness of my heart, for I believe I am case-hardened in that condition of non-citizenship which leaves me very little to fear—[applause]; for the purpose of guarding others rather than myself I have prepared some notes that I might read, which would not contain anything that would be constructive or hurtful. [A voice—"Go on; say what you please; you are in the house of your friends."]

"My friends, partners in joy and in sorrow, in trials and in suffering, I have come to join you in the performance of a sacred task; to lay the foundation of a monument at the cradle of the Confederate government, which shall commemorate the sons of Alabama who died for their country, who gave their lives, a free-will offering, in defence of the rights of their sires, won in the war of the revolution—the state sovereignty, freedom, independence, which was left us as an inheritance to their posterity forever. These rights the compact of union was formed not to destroy, but to preserve and perpetuate. Whoso denies this can not have attentively read the articles of confederation or the constitution of the United States, the latter formed and designed the better to effect the purpose of the first."

Mr. Davis then eulogized Gen. Gordon, and spoke of him being the Confederate general to whom Gen. Lee submitted the question whether Grant's lines could be passed so that Lee's army could get to the mountains of Virginia, where he believed he could hold out for twenty years. Lee, said the speaker, finding no hope in that direction, told Grant he had come to treat for surrender, but not for the surrender of anything that reflected on the honor of his army. Grant was a man, and agreed. Mr. Davis then proceeded:

"That we may not be misunderstood by such as are not wilfully blind, it may be proper to state in the foreground that we have no desire to feed the fires of sectional hate, while we do not seek to avoid whatever responsibility it attached to the belief in the righteousness of our cause and the virtue of those who risked their lives to defend it. [Loud applause and cheers.] No revenge is not the sentiment of a chivalrous people, and the apothegm that forgiveness is more easy to the injured than to those who inflict an injury has never had a more powerful illustration than in the present attitude of the two sections toward one another. Policy, in the absence of magnanimity, would have indicated that in a restored union of the states there should have been a full restoration of the equality, privileges, and benefits as they had pre-existed. Though this has not been the case, yet you have faithfully kept your resumed obligations as citizens, and in your impoverishment have borne equal burdens without equal benefits. I am proud of you, my countrymen, for this additional proof of your fidelity, and pray God to give you grace to suffer and be strong."

Mr. Davis then quoted the Declaration of Independence to prove that the war was not a rebellion, and that Alabama and the other southern states were entirely within their rights when they withdrew from the Union. Sovereigns, he said, never rebelled, and the states are sovereigns. It would be the judgment of the future that the United States government had no right to coerce a state, and that one state had the right to repel invasion. [Applause.] The beginning of all the prophecies of a dissolution of the union was at the north, and when the balance of power between the sections passed to the north, it was so used that the south was compelled to withdraw if she would enjoy her constitutional rights. Then the north made ready for war and the gray-haired sire and beardless sons of the south sprang to the defense of their homes. The leaders did not resolve; it was the people.

Mr. Davis paid an eloquent tribute to the bravery of the men to whose memory the monument is to be raised, and closed as follows:

"In conclusion, permit me to say that though the memory of our glorious past must ever be dear to us, duty points to the present and the future. Alabama having resumed her place in the Union, be it yours to fulfill all the obligations devolving upon all good citizens, seeking to restore the general government to its prostine purity, and as best you may to promote the welfare and happiness of your common country. [Long continued applause.] Citizens of Alabama and ladies [turning to the ladies on the platform],—for to whatever side you may belong, it is your sex that has been true always in war and desolation—we hear of the valor and virtue and enduring name of the Spartan mothers, but tell me when, in all the history of nations, was ever such a spectacle seen as was witnessed in the valley of the Shenandoah. How the tide of war ebbed and flowed! Sometimes the Confederates retreated, and sometimes they pursued. Those people who claimed to be our brethren had burned everything except the fences. [Ex-Governor Watts—"and they would have burned them had they not been stone.]"

Mr. Davis turned smilingly and repeated to the crowd: "And why do you suppose they did not burn the fences? Because they were stone. [Loud applause.] And yet there never was a time when a Confederate body of troops marched down that valley that the ladies did not wave little Confederate flags from their windows and give bread to the hungry soldiers. [Tremendous applause.]

"I have promised that I would not speak extemporaneously and I will not do it. God bless you, one and all. I love you all from the bottom of my heart, and give you thanks now for your kindness." [Great and prolonged cheering.]

The ceremony of laying the corner stone was participated in by the Masonic fraternity, the Monument association, consisting of Colo. Reese, Bragg, W. B. Jones, Screws, Governor O'Neil, Gen. W. W. Allen, Grand Master Harris of the Knights of Pythias and veterans of the late war.

Mr. Davis and Gen. Gordon then proceeded to the governor's room in the capitol, where they received the veterans. After dinner at the Exchange hotel, they joined the Ladies' Memorial association, this being their Decoration Day, in a grand procession to the cemetery, where the soldiers' graves were decorated. Capt. A. A. Wiley delivered the oration. The graves of Yancey, Gen. Lomax, and other distinguished dead were handsomely ornamented. Mr. Davis goes next to Atlanta on a special train tendered by General Manager G. Abbett, of the Western railroad of Alabama. The train will be decorated. After the unveiling of the Hill monument he will go to Savannah. This city is alive with strangers and bunting and decorations are abundant

PROTEST FROM THE NORTH.

Meeting in Albany, N. Y., to Express Indignation at J. D.'s Sentiments.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 30.—A meeting was called Thursday afternoon to meet in the assembly chamber to express indignation at the reception accorded to Mr. Davis in Montgomery, and his speech on that occasion, was called to order Thursday evening. The call was signed by Gen. H. A. Barnum and other veterans. There was a large audience. Gen. Henry A. Barnum called the meeting to order, and moved that Speaker Husted, of the assembly, be called to the chair. This was done. Gen. Barnum, introducing Gen. Husted, said he needed no introduction. He was loyal and faithful to the cause of the Union, and did all he could to sustain the freemen of the north in their long and hard struggle for victory. Speaker Husted then addressed the meeting as follows:

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: For the courtesy embodied in this compliment I tender you my most heartfelt thanks. This meeting has been called to give expression to the indignation felt at the action which has been taken in Montgomery, Ala., and to show to the people of the Union that as the city of Albany was among the first to send troops to the front in the war of rebellion, so she is the first to denounce a renewal of the principles on which that war was fought in 1861. Jefferson Davis declared war, when I say Jefferson Davis, I say what I mean. The people of the south made no declaration. It was made by the arch-conspirator of them all, seconded by the senators, who followed him from the capitol. The people of the south were dragooned. The war was begun, continued, and we supposed it was ended when Robert E. Lee, laid down his arms. But now the principles are re-asserted and the loyal citizens of Albany meet here to-night to declare a renewal of filial relations and loyalty. When he made the re-assertions Jeff Davis committed a greater crime than when he declared war. I say that neither he nor any other man in view of the grand results attained by the bloody war of the rebellion has any right to make such assertions, and we are prepared to meet them in the forum, in the church, in the social circle, and at the polls. If this is the leading issue we welcome it."

Gen. Barnum then introduced the following:

"Resolved, That treason is odious, that the union of the United States of America and the liberty which the American principle of popular government illustrates, is worth the blood of all loyal citizens of our beloved country."

In moving the adoption of this resolution, General Barnum said:

"Wednesday in southern climes, he upon whose garments I see in blood red stains the sacrifice of a loyal and disloyal people was feted and honored. The city of Albany mourns to-day the men who went down to glorious graves at the behest of this man who was received with so much honor Wednesday. I am here to-day to say that these men did not die, that now the people shall put flowers in his pathway, and make him the central figure of the world. I believe, my fellow citizens, that this meeting is the first of a series that will be held throughout the length and breadth of this land, to declare in the words of General Sherman, 'The word for the rebellion was wrong, eternally wrong and that for the Union was right, eternally right.'"

Hon. John Raines addressed the meeting in a similar strain. He compared Davis's utterances to what would have been said by Benedict Arnold if he had been permitted to address a meeting of tories twenty years after the revolution and to defend his treason.

After other speeches the resolution was unanimously adopted and the audience dispersed to the music of "John Brown's Body Lies Mouldering in the Grave."

Ohio G. A. R. Elects Officers.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 30.—Commander Brown called the G. A. R. encampment to order at Music hall early Thursday morning. He announced that the election of a commander for the ensuing year was the first business. Promptly a delegate sprang to his feet, and in a rousing speech he named Col. A. L. Conger, of Akron. A dozen other delegates seconded in strong speeches. It seemed like a Conger cyclone, and the Akron soldier was rushed through with a grand, prolonged cheer which shook the hall as it had never been shaken before. Conger's election was unanimous. For second vice commander, Comrade Charles H. Wentzel, of Cincinnati, was elected; for junior vice commander, Comrade B. N. Lindsey; for department chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Brake.

The Woman's Relief corps elected Mrs. Sarah M. E. Battels, of Akron, commander. This makes the headquarters of both organizations at Akron, as that is the home of Gen. Conger.

Dakota People Don't Like It.

EURON, D. T., April 30.—The news of the house committee's action on the Dakota bill has an enraging rather than a depressing effect on the people of this city. The Huronite appeals to the friends of the state organization to stand firm and demands an early call of the legislature by the government that the state may be still more thoroughly established and maintained. It urges organized appeals to the country in behalf of the Harrison bill, which passed the senate in behalf of the national congressional campaign now opening.

Rangoon Nearly Wiped Out.

RANGOON, April 30.—The city of Mandalay was the scene of another incendiary fire Thursday, the damage by which was much more extensive than by the previous conflagration. By the two fires at least three-fourths of the entire city has been destroyed.

Another Galician Town Destroyed.

VIENNA, April 30.—The town of Brigetenan, near Stry, in Austrian Gallicia, has been destroyed by fire. Brigetenan was inhabited entirely by German colonists.

Two Cases of Malignant.

MONTEREY, Mexico, April 30.—Thursday's train brought in eastern papers giving details of a bloody battle with Mexican bandits at Dolores and Vallecillo mines, as telegraphed from San Antonio, Tex., on the 23d inst. P. J. Bogusch, superintendent of the Vallecillo mines, has arrived direct from the mines, and pronounced the report as utterly false. Such cock-and-bull stories work great injury to American interests in Mexico.

WILLCOX, A. T., April 30.—Gen. Miles, on investigating the report from Fantana that eight men were killed by Indians near there, finds the report emanated from frightened Chinamen and has no foundation in fact.

End of the Kelley Affair.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A special from Washington to The Telegram says the effects of the Austrian minister were sold at auction Thursday. Baron Schaeffer left here many months since, and it was reported after Austria rejected Mr. Kelley, of Richmond, our accredited minister, that Baron Schaeffer would not return unless our government sent a representative of like rank to Vienna. The sale which took place Thursday was considered as finally settling the question of his return, and removing any doubt which may have been entertained on the subject.

A Druggist's Story.

Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, druggist, Newburg, N. Y., writes us: "I have for the past ten years sold several gross of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the lungs. I can say of it what I cannot say of any other medicine. I have never heard a customer speak of it but to praise its virtues in the highest manner. I have recommended it in a great many cases of whooping cough, with the happiest effects. I have used it in my own family for many years; in fact, always have a bottle in the medicine closet ready for use."

BECK ANSWERS FRYE.

THE KENTUCKY SENATOR'S VIEWS ON SUBSIDIES AND TARIFF.

Report on the Proposition to Regulate Oleomargarine—Eads' Ship Canal Bill—A Rejected Hoosier—Retirement of the Trade Dollar—A Lundy's Lane Hero—Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—Beck took the floor in the senate Thursday to answer Frye's speech of Wednesday. He defended the action of the postmaster general last year in declining to use the $800,000 appropriated to have mails carried in American vessels, and claimed that the amendment under consideration required that officer to put the mails aboard slow ships, while the law required the mails to be carried with expedition. He also opposed the plan of making legislation on appropriation bills. As to the effect of subsidies, Beck quoted a variety of statistics to show that subsidies had never increased our foreign commerce, not excepting the Pacific mail subsidy, of which, he said, nobody was proud, and of which nothing had come but corruption. Good administration of the postoffice department required that the mails should be carried in the swiftest vessels. Ninety-one per cent. of our mails would, in any case, be carried independently of this proposed subsidy, and would cost not one-half the amount required by this proposition to carry what would be covered by the amendment. Continuing, Beck said the object of appropriating this $800,000 was not to benefit the mails, but to put money into the pockets of a few men or corporations who own American vessels and had a monopoly of the coastwise trade.

Referring to American commerce, Beck said no one would go farther than he to extend it; but he wanted it done in the proper way. Men might fairly differ as to the best mode of accomplishing an object. A ship was but a wagon, so far as its uses were concerned. When a western man wanted to get his corn or cattle to Liverpool what he would want to find out was how much it would cost him to get it there. That will decide his profits. A ship costing $200,000 would carry his freight cheaper than one costing $300,000. That was an important element. A ship, like a wagon, Beck said, was a private man's property. There was no patriotism in trade. The banker who discounted a note or contracted the currency looked only to himself. If Gen. Lee were living and kept a store in Richmond, and if Gen. Butler kept a store next door to him, although Butler was never a favorite in the south, especially with the women, yet if he could sell calicoes ½ cent a yard cheaper than Gen. Lee, he would ruin him in six months.

Our farmers were compelled to sell in the cheapest market, all but 13 per cent. of our exports being agricultural products. They had no protection. Beck then entered upon an elaborate discussion of the tariff. He insisted that when a man was compelled to sell in the cheapest market, he should be allowed to buy in the cheapest market. When manufacturers had produced all that they could sell they encouraged strikes, and were glad when their workingmen struck. The price of their manufactures went up, but the workman's family was starving.

RETIREMENT OF TRADE DOLLARS.

Bill for the Purpose Reported to the House—Mississippi Reservoirs.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—A bill was passed in the senate Thursday appropriating $9,000 for the purchase of more ground for the public building at Ft. Wayne, Ind. The Fourth of July claims bill was passed also. The postoffice appropriation bill was then resumed and Beck spoke against the amendment to appropriate money for ocean mail contracts with American ships. Hale followed in favor of the amendment, and pending his remarks an executive session was held, and when the doors reopened the senate adjourned.

A bill was introduced in the house providing for the retirement and recoinage of the trade dollar. They are to be received by the United States for six months in payment of all dues, and not again paid out. They may also be exchanged dollar for dollar for standard dollars, and all trade dollars so obtained are to be recoined into standard dollars. A brief discussion was had on the proposition to appoint a commission of medical experts to inquire into the alleged success of inoculation as a preventive of yellow fever and then the house went into committee on the river and harbor bill and rejected a motion to strike out the appropriation for reservoirs at the head of the Mississippi, after which adjournment was taken.

The Man Who Said "I'll Try, Sir."

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—A daughter of Col. Miller, whose bravery at the battle of Lundy's Lane won the day for the American forces, seeks a pension at the hands of the present congress. It was Col. Miller who, when asked if he could capture a certain battery of the enemy, made the laconic reply, "I'll try, sir," and instantly charged the battery with his regiment—a most desperate undertaking, which, however, turned the tide of the battle. He became a general and performed faithful and gallant service until the conclusion of peace with Great Britain. When he died he left his family practically destitute. The only surviving child, an old lady now 72 years of age, is terribly crippled by rheumatism, entirely unable by age and disease to perform any kind of work, and without any means of support.

The Imitation Butter Question.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—The house agricultural committee have submitted a report on several bills to prohibit or restrict the manufacture of imitation butter. The report concedes the evil consequences to the producer of genuine butter, and even to the health of the people by the manufacture and sale of the spurious article, but denies that congress has authority to forbid it. The report analyzes the powers of congress with regard to taxation, but declares that this power can not be used merely to strike down a product or industry without abusing a constitutional trust. They say a tax may be laid upon imitation butter if it be needed for revenue, but can not be imposed for the sake of restraining or preventing its manufacture.

An Indiana Man Rejected.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—In executive session, the nomination of C. R. Pollard, of Indiana, as judge of Montana, was rejected, owing to charges against his practices as a lawyer. Secrecy was removed from the case of Bell, nominated for postmaster at Webster City, Ia., who has been rejected. It appears that Bell procured the removal of Hunter, the former postmaster, on charges of partisanship, although Bell himself was guilty of the most pronounced and "offensive" partisanship.

The Ship Railway Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—From the committee on commerce Congor reported to the senate Thursday the Tehuantepec ship railway bill, which is the same measure which was reported with favorable recommendation recently from the house committee on commerce with two or three changes, which are very material. The senate bill reduces the total guarantee by the government from $37,500,000 to 7,500,000, and reduces the length of time over which the guarantee is to extend from fifteen to five years.

Chinese Legislation.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—The house committee on foreign affairs has agreed to report favorably Belmont's Chinese indemnity bill which appropriates $146,000 to indemnify the Chinese for losses incurred by the Rock Springs riots. The committee has also ordered a favorable report to be made on the Morrow bill, which places further restriction upon the entrance of Chinese into the United States. An effort will be made to dispose of these measures in the house on Monday next.

Received Ah Sin's Representative.

NO BACKDOWN IN GREECE.

The Powers Told That She Will Not Be Dictated to.

LONDON, April 30.—The Chronicle's Vienna dispatch says that M. Manos, the Greek minister, has handed to Count Kalnoky the reply of M. Delyannis to the ultimatum of the powers. The answer is to the effect that the ultimatum ought to be withdrawn; that Greece is willing to submit her claims to the diplomatic consideration of the powers, but can not with honor yield to dictation. The Times' dispatch confirms this.

FIGURES NEVER LIE,

But They Can Be Made to Contradict Each Other Very Flatly.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 30.—In the senate Thursday afternoon two reports of the election of the senators from Hamilton county were submitted, one signed by the Republican members, Coulter, Pringle and Ranells, and the other by the Democratic members, Van Cleaf, Dodd and Crites. The former declares that as a result of their investigation they have found the four Republican candidates legally elected and entitled to seats, while the latter report holds that the Democrats now seated are the legally elected senators. Both reports give figures in support of their findings.

The senate ordered both reports printed at once, and set next Wednesday as the time when they will be considered. A hot fight is then expected.

Something About the Wabash.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Speaking of the recent sale of the Wabash, an official connected with the road and familiar with all of its workings, says: "The property of the system is in first-class shape. The rolling stock and engines will compare with any in the country: the road-bed has been recently re-ballasted, the track is almost all steel, and the 2,500 miles in excellent order. The system, with St. Louis as a center, radiates from St. Louis to Toledo and Detroit, to Chicago and Kansas City. The line to Council Bluffs was recently withdrawn, but will probably again be acquired. The sale does not seem to involve any future complication, and the system will retain all of its integral lines, although there will be a change of policy.

We desire to build up a home trade in

Buckwheat Flour,

And we guarantee that all Buckwheat Flour sold from these mills shall be made from Pure Buckwheat, and shall contain no other ingredients.

Our Graham Flour

Is made from thoroughly cleaned, Choice, White Winter Wheat. Graham Flour takes its name from Sylvester Graham, the author of a noted treatise on "Bread and Bread Making." It is conceded that bread made from unbolted or Graham Flour, is more healthful and nutritious than fine, white bolted flour, for the reason that it contains more of the gluten, from which the flesh, bone, brain and tissue of the body is built up and sustained.
The whitest and most beautiful bread found upon the tables of the critical American, contains less of the elements of

STRENGTH, HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Than the dark colored rye bread in Germany, or the heavy loaves found in the knap-sacks of the Russian soldier. Graham bread made from good, clean wheat is very excellent and healthful food. We propose to make and sell this kind of flour.

Corn Meal.

Hoe cake' Johnny cake, mush and milk, corn meal gems and Indian meal puddings, with pork and bacon, were main articles of diet for the sturdy men and women who subdued and built up the older States of the Union. WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

When does old age begin? At forty-five, it is said, the amount of combustion which keeps the furnace of the human body in blast commences to decrease and diminishes until three-score years and ten, more or less, when the fires are drawn and the flickering flame dies out. That is the physiological way of looking at it. But some men are old before they are out of their teens, while others apparently never grow old, though they live to be centenarians. The poet's way of looking at it is the best:

"Call him not old whose visionary brain
Holds o'er the past its undivided reign.
For him in vain the envious seasons roll
Who bears eternal summer in his soul."

This at least seems to be the way in which David Littell, of Sumner, Ia., looks at life, for though now in his eightieth year he has taken a new lease on life and is apparently determined to hold on to it. Athlophoros did it for him and he acknowledges his debt to it in terms of enthusiasm. Mr. Littell tells his own story:

"I was past seventy-seven and had been afflicted with rheumatism three years and eight months. I had lost one-third of my weight and could not walk, but shuffled along with crutches. Sleep had deserted me, my nerves were all shattered, and there was no strength in my hands, wrists, knees or feet. I could not sit down or get up out of a chair without help, and oh! such pain, worse at night than in the day. There was neither sleep nor rest, and the outlook was painful in the extreme.

"But thanks be to God and Brother Inskip for sending me a paper containing a notice of the cures made by Athlophoros and thanks be to you for sending me a bottle. It appears to me the hand of God is in it all the way, and if you did not hear me shout why then I did not shout loud enough, that is all. The medicine arrived one Saturday night after I had gone to bed. In the morning my son prepared me a dose of two teaspoonfuls in milk. I took it and felt it at once all over. After that I took but one teaspoonful at a time until I had finished the bottle. How did it act? Why, like a charm. On Monday morning I rose, dressed, and walked out into the kitchen without crutches or cane and wished them all a happy New Year.

"My pain is all gone and I rest well. My son, seeing such a great change in me, wrote for ten bottles in order, as he says, to make a permanent cure of it. It is all more like a dream than reality. I have written to four of my friends who are afflicted with rheumatism about the great medicine and I shall write to others, and in this way try to pay the debt of gratitude.

"Some fourteen months ago," says A. Hayward, of Burlington, Ia., "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a dozen different kinds of medicine said to cure rheumatism, but to no purpose. Finally, I procured a bottle of Athlophoros. After using the bottle it did me so much good that I bought another, but did not have to use more than a third of the second bottle before I was entirely cured. From that time up to the present I have never had anything like rheumatic pains, and I thank Athlophoros for the cure."

Thomas McCue, Bush's block, Dubuque, Ia., whose wife was cured by Athlophoros of a terrible case of rheumatism, declares it was "truly a miracle in my wife's case."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York

OMINOUS OF A STORM.

THREATENING CLOUDS DARKENING THE INDUSTRIAL HORIZON.

The Eight-Hour Demand on Chicago Railways Generally Rejected—Milwaukee Employers Say No—Demonstration in New York For Shorter Hours—St. Louis Peace-Makers.

CHICAGO, April 30.—At noon Thursday the freight handlers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road presented a petition, numbering 150 signatures, to the company asking for the adoption of the eight-hour system in the freight houses here. The matter was referred to the officials at Milwaukee. It is believed that a similar demand will be made at all other freight houses. There are about 1,800 freight handlers employed in the city.

It is said that at a general meeting of the freight handlers recently held it was decided that, without giving the railroad officials any warning, the men would quit work on the evening of April 30. H. C. Gano, the foreman of the Burlington & Quincy out-freight house, said that the report was undoubtedly true, as some of his men had reluctantly admitted the facts as stated.

The Burlington freight house have asked and been refused eight hours with eight hours' pay. The Chicago & Northwestern road has peremptorily refused to accede to the freight handlers' demands. When the petition was submitted to General Manager Hughitt he read it over and at once put an emphatic negative upon it which left no doubt as to his meaning. It is now for the men to submit and continue as they are now fixed or accept the alternative and strike. The officials of the road say that it is out of the question for the company at this time to increase the men's pay 20 per cent. as demanded in the reduction of hours to eight per day and the continuance of ten hours' pay.

The troubles at the Northwestern car and repair shops at West Forty-eighth street continue. A committee of fifteen, with Mr. Thompson at the head, waited upon General Manager Hughitt, Wednesday and requested ten hours' pay for eight hours' work. Mr. Hughitt said he could not grant all that was asked of him, but he would do something in the way of ameliorating their condition. Instead of charging the men who lived in Chicago 10 cents for a round trip to and from the shops he would make it 4 cents; moreover on Saturdays he would require them to work but nine hours, and would pay them their usual ten hour stipend. The men held a meeting and decided to see Mr. Thompson again.

THE ANSWER AT MILWAUKEE.

Eight Hours Demanded and the Factories Close.

MILWAUKEE, April 30.—The packing works of John Plankinton & Co. have closed down, throwing 200 men out of employment. The apparent feeling of discontent and preparations indicating a strike is the cause of the shut-down. The employes of two box factories, employing 150 men, walked out Thursday morning for refusal of their employers to grant them the eight hour system.

Every planing-mill of importance in this city has shut down also, in consequence of demands by workmen. The men recently organized an assembly of Knights of Labor with a membership of about 500. Demands for eight hours work at the present ten-hour wages were rejected by proprietors. A strike was ordered, and every mill has shut down and will stay so until the men will accept what the proprietors claim to be more reasonable terms. In addition to the Knights of Labor several hundred other workmen at the mills are thrown out of work by the shut-down.

Situation at New York.

NEW YORK, April 30.—From present indications Saturday night will be made memorable by one of the largest gatherings of organized labor ever seen in this city. The demonstration will be held in Union square under the direction of the Central Labor union, which represents about 100 trades unions and labor clubs. New trades are being organized as rapidly as possible. The meeting has been called to favor a system of shorter hours of labor, and not to make a united demand for eight hours, and, in case of refusal on the part of the employers, to bring about a mammoth strike. The impression is that compromise will be the policy of the leaders of the movement.

Baltimore Eight-Hour Demonstration.

BALTIMORE, April 30.—The workingmen of Baltimore turned out en masse Thursday night under the auspices of the Federation and the Knights of Labor to join in a demonstration favoring the inauguration of the eight hour system. There was a street parade in which 6,000 men participated. At the Concordia Opera house a mass meeting was held which was addressed by prominent local labor leaders, and by State Senators Rusk and Winchester, on the eight hour question.

What Will They Do With It.

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 30.—The eight-hour law, which goes into effect Saturday, May 1, is creating a great deal of comment among the manufacturers of this city. The labor organizations of the state have been striving for the passage of this law for some time, and now that it has passed and is to take effect Saturday they do not know what to do with it. The manufactures have no objections to eight hours with eight hours pay.

STRIKERS LOSING FRIENDS.

Because of a Recent Train-Wrecking on the Missouri Pacific.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The following dispatch was received at St. Louis from Kansas City, and forwarded to Jay Gould, Thursday: "The people of Wyandotte county are very much exercised over the action of the strikers in wrecking the train the other day, whereby two men were killed, and have called a public meeting to take such action as will show the detestation with which the perpetrators of these outrages are held by the people of this county, and also to take such steps as will effectually check these outrages in the future.

"The merchandise business out of Kansas City, on the railroad, has never been as great as at present. The railroad company has all the help it need, both in the yards and in the warehouses.

Still Considering at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—Although Thursday was spent in close consultation by all of the executive boards of the Knights of Labor interested, no decision has yet been reached upon the matter of calling off the strike. The correspondence between the general executive board and the citizens' committee is kept secret as yet. The special investigating committee of the house of representatives arrived at the Southern hotel at 8 o'clock Thursday night. It is not yet certain whether the whole committee will sit here or divide up into two sub-committees, one portion going to Texas, the other remaining here.

The efforts of the peace-makers have been directing and persuading the knights to yield to apparent defeat, at the same time giving them assurances in such shape as to be worthy of perfect confidence that the order shall be the real victors, that efforts will be made to get the men their old places back.

The Third Avenue Line.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Up to noon Thursday fully sixty cars had been run over the Third avenue railroad. President Lyons says applications are pouring in from other cities. He had, he said, received sixty-eight by Thursday morning's mail. Inspector Steers says the police will do all they can to prevent the pickets appointed by the strikers from persuading people to boycott the road, but he did not believe he would be able to stop the practice as it would be difficult to get the persons accosted to make a complaint.

Strikers Arrested.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Five of the persons indicted by the grand jury, charged with having been implicated in the riot of the 13th inst., during which a Third avenue car was wrecked, were arrested Thursday morning, the charge being a disturbance of the peace. The men all pleaded "not guilty," and were remanded for examination.

Closed Rather Than Raise Wages.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 30.—Excepting the steel department, the various branches of the Wayne Iron and Steel works (Brown & Co.) were closed Thursday, on account of a strike of the laborers and engineers for an advance in wages of 10 per cent. Over 300 workmen are idle in consequence.

Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

"Fire-Proof Paper May Be Made,"

It is a pity that such facts as the one following cannot be written, printed or otherwise preserved, upon some sort of indestructable paper. "My wife suffered seven years and was bed ridden, too," said W. E. Huestis, of Emporia, Kansas, "a number of physicians failed to help her. Dr. Pierce's 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured her." Farm For Sale.

Tom Browne Renominated.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 30.—A convention of the Republicans of the Sixth congressional district was held in this city Thursday. It was the largest ever held in this district, and was the occasion of quite a demonstration, in which a parade, several brass bands and much enthusiasm were prominent features. Hon. Thomas M. Browne, of Randolph county, was nominated as candidate for congress by a unanimous vote. Rousing speeches were made by Mr. Browne and others.

He Foiled the Sheriff.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, April 30.—Henry Pattee, a traveling man of Poole, Gilhain & Co., wholesale grocers of this city, committed suicide at the Dancombe house, in Fort Dodge, Thursday morning. He had been appropriating his employers' money to his own private use. They had a warrant issued for his arrest, but just as the sheriff was reading it, he drew a pistol and shot himself in the mouth, with fatal results. He was 40 years old and has a wife and children residing at Webster City.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and the money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—"The N. Y. Financier."

A Little Sufferer

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me great pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now, consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.

May 9, 1885, 612 E. Clay St, Bloomington, Ill

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many reMedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

—Battle of Shiloh
—At the Riverside rink,
—This evening at eight o'clock,
—General B. M. Prentiss, lecturer.

—Be sure and attend General Prentiss' lecture on the "Battle of Shiloh," at the rink this evening.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Indendent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

—One of the Champion dairy teams ran away this morning and went through town scattering milk on every side. The horses were caught while on their way towards the farm, very little damage having been done.

—General B. M. Prentiss arrived in this city this morning, rather surprising the Janesville veterans, who were making preparations to fittingly escort him from the depot to his hotel.

—A new and ornamental ice cream sign has been placed in front of Skinner's restaurant on Main street. The painters did a very good job, and those in search of ice cream can not complain of having nothing to steer by.

—Burr Robbins six horse teams and ponderous blue trucks are very plentiful on the streets this week. The show starts out very soon its first stand being at Beloit on the sixth of May, and the men are busy getting things into shape.

—The Beloit Free Press seems to discredit the reported outrage upon the person of Miss Peterson at the depot in that city on Tuesday night, the vulgar details of which were published in the Argus and copied by other sensational papers.

—On Wednesday morning between twelve and one o'clock, the Pierce warehouse, at Brodhead, was discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be extinguished the building, together with its contents, consisting of grain, tobacco, and machinery, was destroyed. Loss estimated at from $1,000 to $1,500, with no insurance. The fire is supposed to be incendiary.

—Last evening, about half past seven o'clock, a stranger coming from the passenger depot, was assaulted near the corner of West Milwaukee and Academy streets by a couple of roughs, and but for his energetic resistence and the approach of citizens, he would have been "held up" and robbed. The roughs made their escape, taking the stranger's hat. No complaint made.

—A dangerous practice prevails in many places in the outskirts of the city, which demands the attention of the authorities. It is that of "tethering" out cows to graze by the roadside—being tied to a fence by means of a long rope. More than one serious accident has happened to some of our citizens by buggies being overturned by coming in contact with cow and rope. The practice being both dangerous and unlawful, should be suppressed.

—This afternoon about half-past three, Mrs. Converse Hager, of the fifth ward, was walking on Main street, and stepping into Sutherland's bookstore for a moment, she left her child in a baby carriage outside. While she was in the store the light vehicle started, and rolled off the sidewalk, directly under the feet of a high-spirited horse tied near by. The animal became almost frantic, and in its plunges cut the child several times on the face; but when taken to Dr. E. E Loomis' office, the little's one's injuries did not appear to be very serious.

—General B. M. Prentiss, one of the heroic commanders in the great battle of Shiloh, will speak at the Riverside rink this evening, giving an account of that struggle from personal observation and participation. General Prentiss has delivered this lecture in many of the large cities of the United States, and he comes to us with a reputation second to none as an orator and instructive lecturer. He appears here under the auspices of the Grand Army Post, and every soldier and citizen should make it a point to be at the rink this evening to hear him.

—The meeting of the Girls' Social Club was held as announced, and notwithstanding the stormy evening was very pleasant. Both treasurer's and secretary's reports were presented and accepted and an important step was taken in the adoption of a constitution and by laws. Miss Rose Ruthorn, always ready to give pleasure, delighted those assembled with a brilliant piano solo. Mrs. Hawley then interested the club with a most admirable account of the digestive organs. She spoke about forty minutes in concise and vivid style and all were sorry when she closed.

—The many friends of Mr. Edwin E. Bates, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bates, of this city, will be pleased to read, that on last evening he took unto himself as wife, Miss Jessie Coon, of Edgerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coon, of that city. Mr. Bates went to Edgerton about one year ago for the purpose of engaging in the jewelry business. His Janesville friends extend their heartiest congratulations upon this new deal and trust that success will continue to crown all his efforts. The happy ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by the Rev. J. G. Mayer, pastor of the Baptist church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the parties interested. Mr. and Mrs. Bates were the recipients of many useful and ornamental presents as tokens of love and esteem from friends.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Jury Finds for the Plaintiff in the Brown-Mackin Case—Other Matters.

Yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of John Brown against Thomas Mackin, returned bringing a verdict for the plaintiff and assessing his damages against the defendant at $84.75. This morning a motion for a new trial was entered.

The case of the state against Mrs. Clara L. Jenkins was continued on account of the sickness of the defendant's counsel, J. W. Sale, Esq. The case of the state against William Terry was also continued, on affidavit of the defendant.

Loretta Hoffman suit against the town of Milton is now on trial. Sale & Pierce defending and Dunwiddie & Golden and Winans & Hyzer prosecuting. The evidence for the plaintiff is not yet finished so the case will continue for some time.

MRS. WM. H. REED.

Monday afternoon the remains of Margery Ann Read were tenderly laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery by the side of her husband, who departed this life June 24, 1880. Mrs. Read was born in Montgomery county, New York, and emigrated to this state with her parents early in life. She and William H. Reed were married November 14, 1848, and settled near this city on the land familiarly known as the Reed farm. This couple, then young and brimful of energy and ambition, entered with great activity into everything pertaining to build a home and the growth and prosperity of the town and city with which they were to be hereafter identified.

As well directed efforts, and strict attention to business usually meet with just reward, so we find this couple in a short life time possessed of a handsome property. Unto them were born four sons and four daughters, one daughter having preceded them to the better land in 1875. There are few people in private life who have made so large a circle of friends. The hundreds who have been so hospitably entertained in that home can never forget the cordial welcome, and many courtesies shown them while guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reed. In this life of show, excellence is very often lost sight of in the thirst for popularity and praise. The home life of this unassuming woman was beautiful, the memory of which will linger long with those who knew her best. We cannot compute the value of such a life, not until that day when secret things are revealed, shall we know what her influence for good has been. She knew for several days that her stay on earth was short and expressed her willingness to go, saying "I should like to remain longer for my children's sake, but God always knows best." Although she sustained no church relations, "in the life that now is," she prepared for a better one, where sorrows and separations are unknown. Her children have lost a faithful, loving mother, her neighbors have parted with a genuine and well tried friend. The world has lost one to whom the poor and wretched never told their needs in vain. N.

MRS. MARY STEWART.

At her home in Porter township, three miles nearly south from Fulton village, April 18th, Mrs. Mary Stewart died, in the 68th year of her age. So passed away after a brief widowhood, a beloved and honored wife and mother; a greatly and most worthily valued neighbor and friend to all around; a humble and truehearted christian. On Saturday night she retired apparently well. On Sabbath morning she was found unconscious, and before midnight of that day she departed. Less than a year before, her husband,—a man most kind hearted, upright, highly esteemed, loving and upholding all good things—had died after a brief illness, leaving her, though comforted by loving children, very lonely, after a happy married life of almost forty one years. Soon she followed him. A brief sketch of her life will be welcome to her many friends:

Mary McCulloch was born in Scotland, August 19, 1818. When she was about thirteen, her father with his family removed to Canada. Thence, when grown to womanhood, she with an older sister went to Caledonia, New York, where, in October 1844, she was married to James Stewart, also from Scotland. Soon after, they came to Wisconsin and lived for a time near Waukesha. In the spring of 1849 they removed to Catfish prairie, Rock county. After living on several different farms in turn in that vicinity, they settled in 1856 on their own farm in Porter township, which was thenceforth their home till death. They had ten children, six of whom still live, three at the old homstead, the other within a few miles. Of Mrs Stewart's seven brothers and sisters, only two remain—Mrs. Isabel Clayton, near Ironton, Sauk county, and Mr. David McCulloch, near Milton.

Before her marriage Mrs. Stewart had joined the Presbyterian church of Caledonia. In Rock county she was a faithful member of the Fulton Presbyterian church, until it ceased to exist. Afterward, though not an actual member of it, she counted the Fulton Congregational church her spiritual home. Her eternal portion is with the one great church of Christ, made up of all who love him.

"Her children arise up and call her blessed." "A woman that feareth the Lord she shall be praised."

A. S. REID,
Pastor of Fulton Cong. Church.

SAMUEL WALLIS.

For over a year past Mr. Samuel Wallis, of the first ward, had been steadily failing in health. It had been realized for some time that death was not far distant, and this morning as he was sitting in a chair at his home on North Jackson street, the end finally came. The cause of the death was a disease closely resembling dropsy.

The deceased was born in England in 1811, and came to the United States thirty-five years ago. He leaves a wife and five children, three of whom—T. W. Wallis, Henry Wallis and Thomas Wallis—live in this city, and Mrs. T. W. Nichols—in Chicago.

The funeral will be held Sunday, and the remains will be taken to the Center burying ground for interment.

Personal.

—Mr. O. F. Dickey, of Brodhead, was in the city to-day.

—Mrs. W. E. Nightengale is visiting her parents at Oshkosh.

—W. S. Jeffris and A. H. Sheldon returned from their trip to California last evening. They saw several of the Janesville people while on their travels and enjoyed themselves thoroughly. While the weather on the Pacific slope is moderate the returned tourists are not enthusiastic over it. They say that a climate where persons are obliged to wear overcoats the year round, will never be popular with Wisconsin people.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 47 degrees above zero, Partly cloudy with northwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 65 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 38 and 49 degrees above zero.

THE STATE FAIR.

Cold Spring Park, Milwaukee, Secured for State Fair Purposes.

The Evening Wisconsin: "A site for the state fair, which is to be held in this city, was selected last evening by the committee which has had the matter in charge, and its action will meet general approval. The Cold Spring Park is the best possible location, and it has been secured on the most favorable terms.

The conditions are reported to be as follows: "The Merchants' Association is to have the grounds for the first year upon the payment of 1 cent and the taxes, with an option after that of five years' rental at $1,000 per annum and taxes. In case the society desires to move, the improvements—buildings, etc.—will belong to the Merchants' Association." This arrangement is so favorable to the public, to the state fair and to the Merchants' Association of Milwaukee, that Col. Yates, the owner of the Cold Spring Park, must be given credit for displaying much generosity and public spirit.

The people of the whole state may now rest assured that the best state fair which has ever been held in Wisconsin will be seen by them when they visit Milwaukee during the coming autumn while it is in progress.

RE-ORGANIZED.

The Commercial Mutual Protective Association and Collecting Agency.

This association and agency, which has had an office at Rockford, Illinois, has established headquarters for southern Wisconsin in Janesville. This association has been reorganized, and is prepared to do much more efficient work, especially in Janesville, than has been done. Bulletins will be issued monthly which will contain such information as will be important for the business men of Wisconsin to know. Those who become members will be amply repaid for the small investment made. Charles F Orill is manager, and J. M. Orput secretary. They are both active business men, and successful collectors. They can be found at their office, No. 21 West Milwaukee street, and any business entrusted to them will receive prompt attention.

What Locality is Exempt

From malaria? In the city and suburb, village and hamlet, in the mining districts of the west, the bottom lands of the south, in regions teeming with the fruits of husbandry, in trackless wastes inhabited by half naked savages it exists. But travelers, sojourners, old settlers, all who are liable to it, can uproot from the system the diseases to which it gives birth, or prevent them, with Hostetters Stomach Bitters. Chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are each and all overcome by this potent and searching specific. It is not less efficacious for liver complaint, dyspepsia and costiveness, ailments not unfrequently complicated with malarial attacks. Rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, and a want of vital strength, are also remediable by its persistent use. Appetite and sleep, always seriously impaired by the nervous disturbance and biliousness consequent upon fever and ague, are invariably restored by the Bitters.
